Memorial Day To Be Observed In Europe And United States

INDIANAPOLIS, May 29.—On land and sea, in the cemeteries of America and Europe and in every community of the United States, members of the American Legion tomorrow will pay tribute to their fallen comrades and to the dead of other wars.

From the smallest post, where a handful of legionnaires will gather to decorate the graves in country cemeteries to the large cities where thousands will march in parade in commemoration of the day, the spirit will be one of remembrance of American soldier dead.

This Memorial Day is of special significance to the Legion, as it marks the culmination of a nationwide campaign which the legion conducted to raise a permanent endowment fund to provide for the annual decoration of graves of 32,000 war dead in Europe. The fund will reach $100,000 when all contribution have been received, it was announced at Legion headquarters.

Observances throughout the country will take the form of pilgrimages to cemeteries to place flowers on the graves of all soldiers. In the north, the legionnaires are taking up the duty of decorating the graves of Union veterans, relieving the thinning ranks of the G. A. R. from the duty they had religiously performed for many years. In the South, the legionnaires will decorate the graves of those who wore the Gray.

Patriotic addresses will be given throughout the country and Legion members march in solemn parade in the uniforms they put aside more than four years ago.

America's soldiers sleeping in foreign soil will not be forgotten. All cemeteries in Europe will be visited by members of foreign legion posts. Prominent World War leaders from allied countries will gather with representatives of the United States government and other Americans in memorial services at the eight principal cemeteries in France, where the Americans war dead have been gathered.

Ships flying the American flag which were within the approximate zone of the submarine attacks, are to hold simple ceremonies in honor of the men who rest in unmarked graves in the depths of the ocean.

Minnesota legion posts will observe the day by planting hundreds of memorial trees on highways leading into their towns, each tree marks the name of a World War soldier who fell in battle.

Many posts in all parts of the country will dedicate memorial buildings and community centers which citizens have erected.

The French poppy, sacred from its war associations, will be worn by thousands. The national organization of the legion here supplied all posts poppies which were sold, the proceeds to be used for the relief of sick veterans and for the decoration of graves.

Oklahoma City Suffers Worst Flood Damage In History, Many Homeless

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 29.—One man is dead, hundreds of houses are washed away or flooded, and estimated property damage running into hundreds of thousands of dollars is the toll of the flooded North Canadian River here, already, with the water still rising.

Oklahoma City, cut off from its packing house district by wide torrents and with bridge connections out, faces a meat famine within 48 hours. Plans are being made to use airplanes to bring supplies from the meat district to the city in event the waters do not recede.

The first casualty in the flood, which has been in progress for more than a week, resulted when an unknown rescue worker was drawn beneath the walls of a falling house and disappeared in the flood.

With continued heavy rains, approaching cloudbursts in proportion in places, throughout Northwestern Oklahoma, little prospect for immediate relief from high water is seen here. A rise of two feet is scheduled to hit Oklahoma City momentarily, according to reports from cities upstream.

More than an inch and a half of rain fell here in less than an hour yesterday. Wagon and electric line bridges connecting suburbs with Oklahoma City have been swept out, and the threatened two-foot rise will sweep all bridge connections in the city, according to officials. Heavy traffic has been barred from the remaining bridges and pedestrians will be barred if the waters continue to climb, according to police.

Hundreds of refugees driven out of their homes by flood waters are being cared for by emergency organizations. Scores of basements were flooded in Oklahoma City as the result of backwater through the sewer system.

Railroad service is threatened in many places. Water broke into the Frisco roundhouse here late yesterday, flooding the works and marooning scores of workmen.

The Frisco railroad tracks here are under water and all trains from the West are being routed over the Rock Island line.

Entered as second-class matter, February 26, 1919, at the Postoffice at Mexia, Texas, under the act of March 3, 1879.

MEXIA HAS A LIVE LEGION

The Nowlin Post of the American Legion is attracting the attention of the entire State of Texas, because of its large membership, which is much greater numerically than found in any other city of anything like the population of Mexia.

The membership represents practically every walk of life.

Its club rooms are said to be the best equipped and most attractive of any in Texas, unless the exception be at Galveston.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the local Post has been giving splendid cooperation in assisting Commander Owen F. Watkins and the members in building up and caring for the organization, making its future bright and certain.

Thursday night, an athletic event will be held, in line with the desire to present wholesome, clean amusement and to help keep the Legion going through the financial aid that will thereby be derived.

The Post does not pose as an athletic club. It is composed of young life, however, and it is but natural that the directors, in arranging such events as that of Thursday night, that it should try occasionally to offer the public something of that nature.

The Post needs the help of the people.

The citizens of Mexia and this section of Texas rallied to their support in time of war and now that the ex-veterans are home again, believing that they will be enabled to serve their country in peace times most efficiently through the perpetuation of the American Legion, every friends of such a patriotic organization should lend it every encouragement, in word, deed or finance possible.

It takes some little money to keep the club going and to make the post headquarters possible.

The athletic show is just one of the ways of raising the needed finances.

Of course, you'll buy a ticket and be there.

The Post needs the help of Mexia.

OIL COMPANY OFFICIALS AT POWELL TODAY

J. L. Thompson, head of the Thompson Oil Corporation, Judge G. A. Walters, Vice President and V. B. Gardner, are in the Powell field today watching activities at the big gusher brought in by that Company late Saturday afternoon. The gusher bridged over at midnight Sunday and the bridged will not be boiled until sufficient storage and pipe line connections are complete. Five one thousand barrel steel storage tanks are being erected and all will be completed soon.

The pumps are expected to be running the product to storage sometime today.

The fact that the hole bridged was considered very fortunate by the owners as a large amount of oil which would have otherwise been lost has been saved. All available storage at the time of the blowing in of the well had been filled, as well as large earth-con reservoirs and the oil was running over the ground. An area of several acres has been colored by the fluid.

No official test of the gravity of the oil has been announced but it is said to be of a very high grade. Actual gauge of the production will not be possible until the oil is turned into the tanks.

The Springfield No. 2, one of the discovery well effects, is reported to be making a good showing of oil today and is expected to be brought in shortly. Drilling was resumed at this well Sunday.

May 8, four months and one day following the coming in of the Burke discovery well, the Hughes-McKie No. 1, one mile and a quarter directly southwest, blew in with an initial flow of 10,000 barrels of high gravity oil. This was the first real gusher uncoiled in the new fields, and evidently proved the trend of the pay structure out through the opening of the horse shoe. Situated as it is in a direct line with the Burke discovery and its four successful off-sets, the Thompson-Springfield No. 1 in between five hundred yards from the Burke well and slightly less than a mile from the first big gusher, directed interest to the second big well which was crowned into success when it shot forth and filled two five hundred barrel steel tanks in thirty-eight minutes.

Lenin Is Again On The Sick List

COPENHAGEN, May 29.—Several prominent doctors were summoned hastily to attend Nikolai Lenin on Sunday, according to a dispatch from Moscow. The physicians were requested to remain in the Kremlin.

Leonid Krassin, soviet trade emissary to London, is to succeed Vorovsky, who was assassinated at Lausanne, as Russian representative at Rome, according to Moscow reports. Krassin will leave as soon as the Anglo-Russian differences are straightened out.

COMMUNISTS Plan Upheaval in Berlin

BERLIN, May 29.—Communists who have rioted in many Ruhr cities and in Saxony plan a great upheaval in Berlin tomorrow, according to unconfirmed rumors afloat here.

Bloody fighting between Reds and police at Dresden at midnight resulted in eleven deaths, according to reports reaching here.

The French, who have withheld from interference in the disturbances in most instances, today prohibited public assemblies at Rockinghausen, and probably will extend the prohibition to other parts of the Ruhr.

The move, it is believed, may mark the beginning of French intervention to prevent serious consequences of rioting.

The possibility of a Red disturbance in Berlin is alarming the authorities, as this, it is felt, would be far more serious than those elsewhere.

Unique in the annals of medical literature is "Shadows and Sunshine," an absorbing volume on the transplantation of ductless glands, just published by John R. Brinkley, M. D., chief surgeon of the Brinkley-Jones hospital at Milford, Kansas. The volume is a distinctive addition to the literature of the ductless gland, the more so because it approaches this interesting subject from an entirely new angle.

When Dr. Brinkley, who is the originator of animal-to-human gland transplantation, began implanting goat glands into humans in the autumn of 1917, the function of glands was veiled in mystery. Very little was known of the internal secretions. Since then medical books, medical journals, as well as lay journals, magazines and newspapers have devoted columns and pages to the results and arguments for and against this new line of surgery. But all of these articles have been the work of physicians and surgeons or trained scientific observers.

"Shadows and Sunshine," on the other hand, takes up the subject from the viewpoint of the patient—the man or woman who has had implanted in his or her system the glands of the goat and who is able to tell by personal experience of the effects of the operation. More than one hundred patients, male and female, ranging in age from twenty to eighty years, all of them former patients of Dr. Brinkley, have contributed to the volume. Their contributions are in the form of letters written before and after the operation and printed with their permission, and it is from these that "Shadows and Sunshine" takes its name.

The letters written before treatment are extremely pathetic in their appeal and depict, as no novelist could, the depths of physical and mental misery to which mankind may descend. There are letters from men and women who have been told that they have only a few weeks or months to live and who are grasping at the last straw. Reading them, one is certain that they were sent out under a special delivery stamp, for the authors were writing against time. Others are from despairing relatives who see loved ones sinking into insanity before their eyes.

But the gloomy picture that each of these letters paints to the reader has its antidote in another letter, written by the patient after undergoing the operation.

Several world war veterans are among the contributors, as well as numerous victims of the influenza epidemics that swept the country a few years ago.

The letters have been selected carefully from several thousand cases to cover the varied types of disease that are benefited by gland transplantation. Perusing them, one learns that hardening of the arteries, paralysis, locomotor ataxia, diabetes, Bright's disease, melancholia, impotency, sterility, dementia praecox, as well as many other diseases, are being cured by implanting goat glands under local anesthetic, or by augmenting this operation by major surgery, as the nature of the case may demand.

To these letters Dr. Brinkley has added pertinent chapters on the ductless glands and their function, diseases influenced by gland transplantation, the method of operation and other interesting data.

MIAMI LURES LEADING PICTURE STARS; HIALEAH THREATENS HOLLYWOOD'S SUPREMACY

When you go to the movies now and see your favorite screen star making love under a sheltering palm in the south seas or being dragged about on some desert island, the chances are ten to one that the picture has been made in Miami, Florida.

There has been a big pilgrimage of picture stars to Miami in the last year. The absence of fog there insures "shooting" pictures every day in the year, and nowhere else except in Miami's latitude is to be found the royal palm tree, so essential to tropical "atmosphere."

Screen stars, who are pretty phenomenal anyhow, don't relish being taken to a real desert island any more than do their directors. At Miami, however, which is rapidly becoming a motion picture center, they have found that a few hours journey takes them into tropical jungles, while at hand on the beach is found the most up-to-date type of high society. Beautiful winter residences of millionaires, stunning girls, and all the trappings of the rich are to be found all around, and with the Miami society colony at polo, yacht- ing and golf, there is no lack of atmosphere or background.

In an hour by motor boat the cameras may be clicking off a scene on a "pirate island" amid tropical beauty and thrilling surroundings. That Miami's popularity threatens Hollywood's supremacy is shown by the number of motion picture stars who have "worked" at Miami. Some of these are Constance and Norma Talmadge, Elsie Ferguson, Alice Brady, Bebe Daniels, Billie Burke, Anita Stewart, Alice Terry, Theda Bara, Mae Murray, Irene Castle, Corinne Griffith, Nita Naldi, Ruby de Remer, and scores of others less well known.

David Wark Griffith, Rex Ingram and other producers are using Miami "locations," and a mammoth motion picture studio has been built with every up-to-date appliance, which the producer finds at his fingers' ends on arrival.

Many movie stars live at Hialeah. Miami's motion picture suburb, Hialeah, promises to become as well known as Hollywood, without, perhaps, a few of Hollywood's features, Miamians hope.

Pittsburg Scout Spends Three Days In Mexia

By Heck

By hopping on Tiner right after someone had booted the pill, the Red Sox trimmed us again Monday by a 7-5 count when we should have won hands down. Somehow these Red Sox act like the Gumbo Busters when we play them and they do their damndest and our gang gets a bad case of the bootitis and away goes a ball game. As it stands now the Sox have five games to four on the season. Everything looked good in the first frame when we stopped 'em without any one getting on. The Sox tallied in the second on a couple of hits and in the third they started a race track until Tiner got under Erwin's mile high fly and got the side out after four dents had been put in the platter. The Gushers snagged their entire total of two in the third on a pass to Whit after Howell's out, Tiner's blow to right, a pass to the Squib and Roysters long fly to Munns who proceeded to try to throw the pollot all the way to Shiloh and at that the Umps had to lead Tiner in from third because he was afraid someone had the ball hid. The whole Gusher infield got at least one error out of their system and they should do better now that they got six boots out of the way. However, the present road trip sure looks bad from where I sit. The whole gang is a badly bruised lot and some so sore that they can hardly get about much, less play a good game. Butler especially has had a bad arm for sometime that he carries as a memento of a collision with catcher Schroyer in Waco a long time ago. The rest of the gang are either nursing sore arms, lame backs or a flock of strawberries in their sliding apparatus, wherever that is. This little runt Bupp who plays short for the Sox showed us some fancy stuff yesterday and it just about stamps him as the best in the loop. His work of covering ball hits over second is just about the best seen here. Don't expect too much of the gang while they are away these nine long days, for they are not in shape to come back with a lot of games won and if they can get back with the odd game in their favor we will be lucky. Tiner and Hill are getting overworked and that about spells the pitching staff as it is. Stovall has turned in well pitched games, his last three times out and will be a big help, but what flub will do after Stovey pitches today is a mystery sure'nuff. Well, we can keep our fingers crossed until the gang gets back and maybe that will help some.

Dick Monahan, scout for the U. S. church Pirates has been with us the past three days and three days is a long time for a scout to stay in a class D town to watch class D clubs. However Dick told me that the Texas Association was playing the best class C baseball he had seen this year and he has seen all of them. It was especially pleased with the speed of the games and did not hesitate to say that all the clubs were strong class C aggregations. Dick was especially interested in watching Whitney and Leady but had good words for the whole club. Dick did not buy anybody this trip, but said he would be back again before the season ended. I tried to sell him Red Soxen and have him taken to Pittsburg, but Dick could not see my argument.

PADDLERS FIND COLUMBIA RIVER A DELIGHTFUL STREAM FOR HUNDRED-MILE CANOE TRIPS

Canada is the land of the canoe. Before white men discovered America the Indians had paddled over every lake and stream between the Atlantic and Pacific. While most arriving on this continent adopted the Redman's water craft as the logical vehicle for penetrating unknown sections. In those early days the canoe was an article of service; today it is practically one of pleasure only.

Canada's wealth of waterways in the western provinces have lured hosts of Americans as a summer play place with the canoe as the proper accompaniment to a vacation in the wilds.

Recently a new region has been invaded by enthusiastic canoeists: the Columbia River and Windermere Valley in British Columbia. Many may wonder how canoeing can be possible among the mountains through which this mighty stream courses. However, it is quite feasible to make a canoe trip on the Columbia on its early stretches. Bliss Cadden, the Canadian poet laureate, shot the eight by mile rapids of the Kootenay River last summer, but reported that "this is no trip for amateurs." The Upper Columbia, however, is not too hard for the canoeist. A trip made last summer by two Americans and a local man was very interesting, the details follow.

The start was made from Canal Flats, being preceded by an auto trip up the Kootenay River, seeing bear, deer and sheep as well as century-old Indian paintings on the rocks, enroute. Paddling down the north end of Columbia Lake, a fine camping ground was discovered, and a day spent there. The next camp was at Fairmont where two days were spent enjoying the scenery and bathing in the Hot Springs. Chisholm's Camp on Mud Lake was the next stop. The river between the Columbia and Mud Lake was found to be very swift and full of "sweeters," this was the only dangerous stretch encountered in the trip of 120 miles.

ORAN, Algeria, May 29.—One case of plague is reported here. The steamer Gibel Gerjon, which left Oran, has been quarantined at Gibraltar, with sixty passengers aboard. Pestilence is reported at Seville and a steamer, the Jarlot, with Spanish passengers, is quarantined at Gibraltar.

Two Killed; Three Injured Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 28.—Two men were killed and three seriously injured here Sunday when two automobiles collided.

Reuben Hiccox, 69, of Oklahoma City and Harvey Horner, 69, Long Beach, Cal., are the dead. Horner was killed instantly and Hiccox died in an ambulance shortly after.

Horner was a 33 degree Mason and founder of the consistory at Wichita Kansas.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

Beaton's wild pitch in the ninth inning first two runs in and gave the Robins a 6 to 5 victory over the Braves.

Four runs scored in the first inning were all that the pirates could get off Viv Aldridge, but they were enough to beat the Cubs, 4 to 2.

O'Connell's first homer with two on base, helped the Giants win over the Phils, 12 to 4 and gave them their eighth straight victory.

Evans misjudged a fly hit by Meusel with two on in the first inning and it went for a homer, giving the Yanks three runs and the start for an 8 to 1 victory over the Senators.

Mitchel held the Buffs to four hits and the Steers won, 7 to 1.

The Crabs were helpless against Carlson and the Spudlers scored their first shut out of the season, 12 to 0.

The Bears scored five times in the first frame and easily defeated the Gassers 8 to 4.

Scenes from the Land of Cocoanuts

How Coconut is Brought from the Caribbean to Us

The best coconuts come from the Caribbean, to be transformed here into the shredded, fresh-keeping coconut we know so well. The accompanying photographs show how they are grown and harvested there. The pictures in the top row are, from left to right: (1) Rapid Transit on a Coconut Plantation; Carts on rails, drawn by oxen, gather the coconuts after they have been taken from the palms. It would be a long, tedious journey, if the entire trip from the plantation to us had to be made in this manner. (2) No Job for a Man Who Gets Dizzy; You'll appreciate coconut more after you see what a job it is to harvest them. The tall palms are climbed by natives who use a rope, called a "liane" to help them.

(3) The Coconut Has Many Uses Besides as a Food; For instance, this photograph shows a picturesque hut, thatched with leaves from the palm. However, most of us prefer modern roofing and will take our coconut shredded. Bottom Row, left to right. (4) Coconuts on the Palm; They give no hint of their goodness, enclosed as they are in thick husks which must be broken open before the nut can be extracted and brought to us shredded in ever-sealed containers. (5) Ornamental as well as Useful; The palms in addition to furnishing us with a tasty, healthful food, are employed for many other purposes in the tropics. This picture shows them used to decorate a driveway.

THIS PROVES OLD WORLD IS OKAY

Two fair returning voyagers on deck waving greetings to newspaper and magazine men on shore. And what's more, when they met them they kissed 'em hard. The fortunate newspaper man who happened to be on hand to get kissed was Roy Howard, of the Scripps-Howard papers; and the lucky magazine man who would have been disappointed if he hadn't got his, was Ray Long, editor-in-chief of all the Hearst magazines. They used to be cub reporters together. The reason they happened to be there to get kissed is that the fair voyagers back from South America were—their wives, Mrs. Ray Long (left) and Mrs. Roy Howard (right).

Says Dizzy Spells Are Dangerous Symptoms of High Blood Pressure

"It may be fatal to ignore the warning which Nature gives when she causes frequent dizzy spells," said a well-known physician. "They are often the only signals given to tell us that the blood pressure has been increased to the danger point." And High Blood Pressure is a condition not to be neglected. It is itself a symptom of auto-intoxication (self-poisoning). The heart, in its endeavor to overcome the bad effects of the wastes that are poisoning the entire system, pumps harder and harder until the dangerous condition of High Blood Pressure is present. A scientific preparation called Bi-a-lin has been recently prescribed with remarkable results. It helps Nature to free the system of the poisons which have caused the heart to overtax itself in its efforts to overcome their harmful effect. The benefits reported from Bi-a-lin have been so remarkable that it was decided to put it up in convenient tablets and make it available to everyone without a prescription. If you have dizzy spells, nervous attacks, frequent headaches, offensive breath or constipation or feel generally run down, get Bi-a-lin at once from any good druggist such as, Mexia Drug Co., Anderson and Gililand—(Adv.)

Go Get Your Test

Then watch its effect on film. See the prettier teeth

If you don't know this new way of teeth cleaning, go accept this offer. Make this delightful test. Learn how much this method means to you and yours. Millions now employ it. You see the results in glistening teeth wherever you look today. All the world over it is bringing to people a new conception of what clean teeth mean. Go compare this new way with the old and watch the changes which come in a week. You must fight film. Brushing teeth does not protect them if you leave a film. Film is the tooth's great enemy—the cause of most tooth troubles. And very few escaped those troubles under former brushing methods. Film is that viscous coating you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats it. Food stains, etc., discolor film. Then it forms dingy coats. Tartar is based on film. That is why teeth lose luster. Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in film. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. And that is alarmingly common. Easy, effective ways Dental science has now found ways to combat that film. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring. Able authorities proved these methods by many careful tests. Then a new-type tooth paste was perfected to apply those methods daily. That tooth paste is called Pepsodent. Its use has spread the world over, largely by dental advice. Careful people of some 50 nations are employing it today. Other unique effects Dental research also found two other things essential, because of deficiencies often found in modern diet. So Pepsodent multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is one to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids. Those are Nature's great tooth-protecting agents in the mouth. Any soapy tooth paste decreases their power. Pepsodent, with every use, gives them manifold effect. Thus it is an effective aid in the war on acid and on starch. All the world over dentists urge its use Under old methods, tooth troubles were constantly increasing. They were almost universal. Most people's teeth were clouded more or less. Pyorrhea—that dread disease—attacked a large percentage. So leading dentists everywhere now urge this fight on film. All the world over Pepsodent is bringing a new dental era. Pepsodent results are quick and apparent. They will be a revelation to you. Once see and feel them and you will never go without them. Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Watch the other good effects. Engineer Says Individual Is Big World Problem

MONTREAL, March 29.—The individual the world's biggest problem Robert B. Wolf, New York engineer and industrialist, declared today in an address on "Management Engineering in the Paper Industry" at the spring meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

"In no other period of the world's history has the group spirit found such material expression as in this twentieth century development of corporate industry," said Wolf, who was a member of the Hoover committee on elimination of waste in industry of the Federated American Engineering Societies.

"In the past men have combined into groups for productive purposes, but never before have we seen such grouping of groups and these larger groups into still larger corporate units, and the startling fact is that most of this has taken place within the lifetime of the men who are still in active charge of industry."

"What is the meaning of it all and what is to become of the individual men in the process? This, I believe to be the most momentous problem confronting modern civilization for it is not solved, civilization as now constituted cannot last. To crush out the individuality of the workman is fatal to human progress and it is also fatal to destroy the individuality of our manufacturing or production unit."

There is perhaps nothing more concrete and practical and at the same time more abstract and theoretical than the problem of developing an indivisible group of individuality."

But as the man's interest in the future economy of his own performance is aroused by making him conscious of the economy with which he has performed in the past, so must the group consciousness of economy be aroused by providing a record of past group performance. Under group individuality (esprit de corps) is developed there can be no sense of responsibility and hence no progressive group accomplishment."

It is obvious, therefore, that we must develop records for enabling the individual who comprises the group to be conscious of what the group as a unit, is accomplishing. Without this definite knowledge of past performance there can be no cooperation, teamwork and the group will be in the direction of quantity with little thought of improvement in quality of performance or economy of operation."

"The individual must be understood and the whole problem of individuality itself into finding out how to enable the unit individual to become conscious of his relationship to the all including group individual the plant, and how to organize the plant so that it will be efficient, sensitive to the welfare of the human units of which it is composed that it will not repress but encourage their individual development."

"The secret seems to lie in stimulating group consciousness within the organic whole of the plant by continuously recording the group's relationship to the plant on the one hand, and the man on the other and the immediate need seems to be for the education of foremen to intelligently direct the group."

The most difficult problem that the paper mill manager has to solve, according to Wolf, is that of overcoming the resistance of the practical operators to the introduction of scientific manufacturing methods."

BUGHOUSE FABLES

Hunting Ohio For King Tut Of U.S.A.

COLUMBUS, O., May 28.—Archaeologist are digging in the Ohio river "valley of the kings" for an American King "Tut".

When they find him his tiappings will exceed in splendor and the relics of his people will evidence a higher culture than the splendor and culture of the Egyptians three thousand years ago, according to Dr. William C. Mills, Ohio State University archaeologist. He believes relics are about to be unearthed in Ohio that would make the ancient Pharaoh, could he but see them, turn green with envy.

Many treasures already dug up in this country surpass those of the Nile, Dr. Mills said.

A gold nugget hammered into the shape of an eagle is Dr. Mills' chief reason for believing American art 3,000 years ago was superior to that of Egyptian art of the same age. Beautifully carved pipes recently taken from excavations in the Mound City group of Indian mounds are perhaps the most beautiful of the handwork of the American ancients. They are carved from the hardest stone and their graceful curves, Dr. Mills points out, are a triumph over the short angular carvings of the Pharaohs.

The American flapper, when the ancient wonders begin coming to light in this country, however, Dr. Mills believes will be less eager to adopt their styles of dress. For it is written in the museums that the relics thus far brought up indicate clearly the prehistoric tribes of this continent clothed themselves in a few jewels and a smile.

Otherwise they were as "cultured" as their contemporaries across the sea. Where the natives of the

FOREIGN BOXERS

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, May 29.—Paul Sampson, like Mike McTigue, who left the United States with little rep and some ambition, is back in this country with a title, quite a little money and a lot of opinions.

Sampson is the heavyweight champion of Germany. In the words of Sam Langford, who said after he won the heavyweight championship of Mexico: "It ain't so much, but it's sumpin'." Paul is admitting that his laurels won't get him much around American rings, but he's going back soon where they do.

"The fight game is booming in Germany, and I'm in on the ground floor. If I can't get a few matches around here I'm going right back," Sampson said.

He would like to get a match with Mike McTigue or Gene Tunney.

"McTigue may be recognized light heavyweight champion on this side, but everyone in Europe still regards Siki as the champion. He won seventeen rounds in the fight with McTigue, and no fighter ever earned a decision on three good rounds," he says.

While he was in Germany and Austria, Sampson won ten fights with knockouts and he piled up an accumulation of marks that will go a long ways where he could buy hand-made shoes for the equivalent of two dollars and a banquet for twenty-five cents.

Sampson shipped over on the Reliance, and he got a discharge in Hamburg with a month's pay of twenty dollars. That was enough to keep him for two months in Germany and he hit for Berlin, where he stumbled into a fight with Hans Braeaon, the German champion, and knocked him out.

After he had cleaned up all the German and Austrian heavies he had a fight arranged with Siki, and was negotiating with Paris promoters for a fight with Carpentier, but he lost both matches when the French went into the Ruhr section.

"The boxing commission then put a ban on all bouts against French and Belgian boxers and, being as I am a German, I lost the chance for some good money," he said.

This fellow Siki isn't as bad as you think on this side. He's just a monkey. He drinks like a fish and does all kinds of dissipating, but he's hard to figure," Sampson said to the United Press.

"Carpentier is all through. I doubt if he comes over here. I saw him one night in a cafe in Berlin, and I didn't know him, he was so thin and white. He's been hitting the pace too. Smoking and drinking all the time. Dempsey took the little out of him that he had.

"Crisqui is the best fighter, over there, but I don't believe he can beat Kilbane. Those fellows over there don't like to take it the way they will have to when they box with Americans."

WORKING THE "COMBINATION"

A combination lock usually protects something valuable. The more valuable the article protected the more complicated the "combination", as a rule.

It requires a certain degree of knowledge and some practice to "work it". In this respect the combination to prosperity is no different from others.

In a farming community like ours, the door to prosperity may be opened, with close application and patience, by working the following combination properly.

Feedstuffs—milk cows—hogs—poultry.

You may need some help—if so, use us. We're here for exactly that.

The Universal Natural Malady And The Eternal Divine Cure Discussed In Message Sunday

"Tongues on Fire" was the subject of the eloquent sermon delivered Sunday morning at the First Presbyterian church by Doctor David Carson Bayless. Dr. Bayless had just returned from Ada, Ohio, where he attended the graduation exercises of Ohio Northern University, where he preached the baccalaureate sermon and where he received the degree of Doctor of Divinity.

His message in part was as follows:

Tongues of Fire

The twin messages from above levied as a burden upon the heart of the Messenger yet seeking only to do the Will of Him by whom he has been called to "preach the Gospel" and whose commission is to "preach the preaching that I bid thee" and "in the morning sow thy seed and in the evening withhold not thy hand for thou knowest not which shall prosper, this or that or whether both shall alike prove good," are hereby humbly presented as "the Universal Natural Malady" and "the Eternal Divine Cure". The text this morning is "The Tongue is a fire and it is set on fire of Hell" James 3:6. "The tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity; so is the tongue among all members that it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the course of nature. And it is set on fire of Hell." Time and time again we have stressed in your hearing the dire need of a working knowledge of the Word of God but generally with the emphasis centered upon knowing "Him who to know aright is life eternal." This morning let us consider the Bible as the truth not only revealing God to man, but disclosing human nature, revealing man to himself. "Know thyself" is not only sound, sensible, good advice but is a practical prerequisite to knowing God. We must know the malady before we can know the remedy. So let us direct our attention to the context and as we read and re-read it the realization has to upon us that these scriptural facts have been unknown, at least have lain dormant in our minds, and lost to effective working in our lives and we sense a great need of the knowledge of this great truth that "the double minded man is unstable in all his ways." Our instability in the Christian life is a settled fact that we are "unprofitable servants" at best and that "our good is evil spoken of" and that our lives languish against the Lord Jesus while our professions of "obedience to Him are profitless." Is a truth we must face, and why? Because we have not sought and striven for "the unsearchable riches of God in Christ Jesus" the depth of the riches both of the Wisdom and the Knowledge of God for almost His injunction: "Search the Scriptures for in them ye think ye have eternal life and these are they which testify of me" "my word, are spirit and they are life." "The tree is known by its fruit" "How can ye being evil speak good things?" "out of the abundance of the heart, the mouth speaketh. A good man out of the good treasure of the heart bringeth forth good things, and an evil man out of the evil treasure bringeth forth evil things. Matt. 12:34-35. Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth. But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust corrupts, and your treasure is there will be your heart also. The heart is the eye, if therefore thine eye be single thy whole body shall be full of light. But if thine eye be evil thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is that darkness? Matt. 18:1. But I say unto you that every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment. For by thy words thou shalt be condemned." James, the blood cousin of the Lord Jesus, is writing as one of those "Holy men of old" who "spoke as they were moved by the Holy Ghost" of a sin so far-reaching and defiling as to fill the whole world with iniquity and certainly our attention should be attracted and our interest riveted to it until by prayerful, careful consideration we come to cope with this insidious working poison of corruption. The scriptural word "Back, biting" covers all that we know as tattling, whispering, evil speaking, defaming, bearing false witness, spreading false or even partly true reports, repeating gossip hinted, scandal insinuation. These are the evil's own fangs, functioning through the express agency of the human heart dominated by Satanic impulses. By nature we are self-deceived as well as Satan deceived for we are born with faces turned away from God. A careful study of God's revelation of man to himself discloses that "The heart is deceitful above all things and desperately wicked. Who can know it? I the Lord search the heart. I try the reins even to give to every man according to his work and according to the fruit of his doing." Jer. 17-10. We are prone to this sin we are trended toward every other prohibitory sin. Prohibition does not prohibit whether it be of God or men. "Thou shalt not go up and down as a tale bearer among the people" It is easier because of the total depravity of the natural man to speak guile than good. David said of certain people thus minded, "The poison of asps is under their lips" and again "My soul is among lions—they are set on fire." The tongue is a fierce devouring lion, the tongue is a keen cutting sword. The tongue is a devastating demagogue as fire destroying all in its wake. Among the things God hates is the "sowing of discord among the brethren" "The progress of the church of the Lord Jesus Christ has been retarded and she has been hindered in her growth in G. and the knowledge of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ" more by the human tongue than by any other course and that within the fold. He indeed has been "wounded in the house of His Friends" This truth is indeed generic but none the less positive, pointing to the course of the last life of the Ecclesia "The called out ones" The watch word of His teaching is the word Watch and the first word in the acrostical consideration of human attributes contained therein is words. Watch Words, Action, Thoughts, Company, Habits but the first three are almost inseparable for thoughts proceed from the heart and words and actions are but the expression of these heart centered thoughts. Our used then is to think. "Just stand aside and watch yourself go by, think of yourself as he or she instead of I. Pick flaws, find fault, forget that person's you, then try to make your estimate of yourself ring true. The faults of others then will dwarf and shrink. Loves chain will grow strong or by one mighty link. When you as he or she is substituted for I have stood aside and watched yourself go by." Watch.

Do you know of a tale the telling of which will cause a proud man to lay low in the ditch of disgrace and despair and disdain everywhere the head once held high by a very good name. To droop with the horrible burden of shame. Its a mighty good plan to forget it. "Boys flying kites call in their white winged birds, you can't do that when you are flying words, thoughts unexpressed often fall back dead. But God Himself can't kill them when they've said watch. Mrs. R. T. Barnes of Dallas is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sewell.

Engineers To Watch New Motor At Work

By CAPT. E. V. RICKENBACKER
American Ace in the World War
Written for the United Press

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 23—Flags will be flying, thousands will be cheering and an historical event of importance will be under way at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, when more than 30 cars and drivers will start in the Eleventh International 500-mile race over the historic bricks of the famous Hoosier course.

The entire world will eagerly await the information telling the winner's name and the car which he drove. The thousands who will see the race will be awed at the daring of these speedsters. The man who will come under the wire first will be a hero. Practically every man, woman and child who will witness the gigantic event is interested in automobiles if not from an owner standpoint from at least a transportation point of view. Yet few of them will realize the importance changes that are likely to rise from the smoke of the race and become evident within a short time in the automobiles which we see on the street.

For the power plants driving the many racers over the bricks at Indianapolis at terrific speed are developed on never more efficient and durable principles. On their success will depend the trend in engineering in the years to come. If they are as universally successful as it is believed they will be, there will be a noticeable trend in the direction of smaller motors for passenger cars. The motors in the racing cars to be driven tomorrow are smaller than even the power plants in the common flivver—smaller than any car we see on the streets today. One manufacturer has entered four cars in which are incorporated a rotary valve principle of construction heretofore unsuccessful but which has shown promise in the days of practice preceding the race. If they are successful it will set engineers to working in that vein. It is interesting that these small motors operate more efficiently with lower grades of fuel. The compression is high and the problem of lubrication, always difficult, has been solved, it seems. Engineers from all over the world are here to investigate the performance of the smaller motors and cars. After the big event the winner's car will be torn down and inspected.

Tommy Gibbons Goes to Training At Shelby, Mont.

SHELBY, Mont., May 23.—With the arrival of Tommy Gibbons here this week to start his training for his fight with Jack Dempsey on July 4, Shelby will get its first real martial atmosphere.

Work on the arena is progressing rapidly and the advance sale of tickets continues beyond expectations. The promoters estimated today that $400,000 worth of orders have been placed on file and that from $5,000 to $10,000 worth are coming in daily.

Feeling that the Dempsey-Gibbons fight is now sure of being a tremendous success in every way, prominent business men of this section are planning to make such an offer for the proposed Dempsey-Wills fight on Labor Day that no Eastern promoters will be able to better it.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

Benton's wild pitch in the ninth inning first two runs in and gave the Robins a 6 to 5 victory over the Braves.

Four runs scored in the first inning were all that the pirates could get off Viv Aldredge, but they were enough to beat the Cubs, 4 to 2.

O'Connell's first homer with two on base, helped the Giants win over the Phils, 12 to 4 and gave them their eighth straight victory.

Evans misjudged a fly hit by Meusel with two on in the first inning and it went for a homer, giving the Yanks three runs and the start for an 8 to 1 victory over the Senators.

Mitchell held the Buffs to four hits and the Steers won, 7 to 1.
The Crabs were helpless against Carlson and the Spudders scored their first shut out of the season, 12 to 0.
The Bears scored five times in the first frame and easily defeated the Cassers 8 to 4.

Mrs. R. E. Hickman entertained Saturday morning with a 42 party and her guests were Mrs. Grant of Weatherford and Mrs. Clendenning.

New York Klan Rebels Against Governor Smith

NEW YORK, May 29.—Thousands of white-robed members of the Ku Klux Klan following week-end meetings held all the way across New York State from Niagara Falls to Eastport, L. I., stand today in open defiance of the new State Law, which compels filing with the Secretary of State the roster of secret societies, such as the Klan.

Amid flaring red torches and before mysterious altars, draped with the American flag, Klansmen pledged themselves to obey the constitution of the Klan, declaring Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York State had signed his political death warrant as far as his presidential aspirations were concerned by supporting the State dictum directed against the Klan.

THIS PROVES OLD WORLD IS OKAY

Two fair returning voyagers on deck waving greetings to newspaper and magazine men on shore. And what's more, when they met 'em they kissed 'em hard. The fortunate newspaper man who happened to be on hand to get kissed was Roy Howard, of the Scripps-Howard papers; and the lucky magazine man who would have been disappointed if he hadn't got his, was Ray Long, editor-in-chief of all the Hearst magazines. They used to be cab reporters together. The reason they happened to be there to get kissed is that the fair voyagers had been from South America were their wives, Mrs. Ray Long (left) and Mrs. Roy Howard (right).

Sinclair Lakes To Gulf Pipe Line Complete

HOUSTON, TEXAS, May 20.—The lakes-to gulf pipe line of the Sinclair Pipe line Company which will start from Houston to Chicago and which will take in practically every important field in the middle-west, is expected to be completed and in operation within the next few days. It has been announced by officials of the company.

The completion of this pipe line marks the first step in the construction of a giant funnel-like system of pipe lines, the spout of which will be in Port Houston and the bowl of which will extend through practically every producing oil field East of the Rockies. The Lakes-to Gulf pipe line is only a part of the complete system.

A second line from Tea Pot Dome, Wyoming which will join the Lakes-to Gulf pipe line a short distance below Kansas City, Mo., is now under construction.

The almost completed pipe line has a broader scope than any other in the world. The system of the Prairie Pipe Line Co., has more mileage but it is criss-crossed through Oklahoma and Kansas to such an extent that the scope of its operations does not compare with that of the new project.

A complete privately owned communication system has been installed in conjunction with the pipe line. This affords the Sinclair Pipe Line Company direct telephonic communication between Houston and Chicago. The line to Tea Pot Dome will also be equipped with such a system.

Seventeen pumping stations will be required along the Lakes-to Gulf pipe line. These stations have already been built and each station requires a permanent force of eight to ten men to care for the huge Diesel engines which will run day and night to keep the "black gold" flowing through the pipes.

Another feature of the new pipe line is that it is one of the few two-way lines. Oil can be pumped either in or out of Houston, according to the requirement. If necessary oil could be pumped directly from Houston to Chicago or visa versa.

$5,000,000 Decrease Favored By Senators Educational Bill Cut

AUSTIN, May 29.—Reductions in appropriations exceeding five million dollars for two years was decided upon by the Senate Finance Committee.

The educational bill was reduced 10 per cent throughout.

Departmental bill was ordered cut the same amount.

Recommendation that two million dollars be deducted from the emergency school bill and a million from the rural aid bill was decided on.

The bills will be reported to the Senate for action.

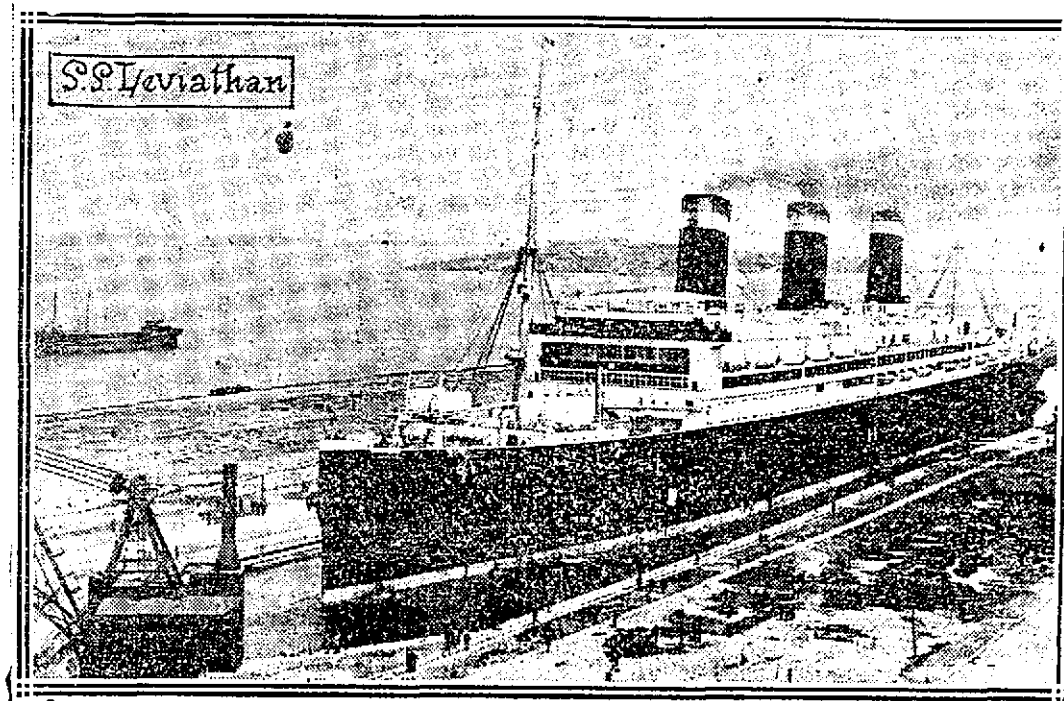

About the same time the Senate committee was acting upon these appropriation bill the House was placing itself on record as being unalterably opposed to reducing the rural aid bill, and also opposed to cutting the emergency bill below the minimum of $13 per capita.

The Senate Finance Committee will submit its recommendations to the Joint Ways and Means Committee for their adoption. Senate members of the committee favor cuts but House members state that they will not sign the recommendation.

Memorial Day To Be Observed In Europe And United States

INDIANAPOLIS, May 29.—On land and sea, in the cemeteries of America and Europe and in every community of the United States, members of the American Legion tomorrow will pay tribute to their fallen comrades and to the dead of other wars.

From the smallest post, where a handful of legionnaires will gather to decorate the graves in country cemeteries to the large cities where thousands will march in parade in commemoration of the day, the spirit will be one of remembrance of American soldier dead.

This Memorial Day is of special significance to the Legion, as it marks the culmination of a nationwide campaign which the legion conducted to raise a permanent endowment fund to provide for the annual decoration of graves of 32,000 war dead in Europe. The fund will reach $100,000 when all contribution have been received, it was announced at Legion headquarters.

Observances throughout the country will take the form of pilgrimages to cemeteries to place flowers on the graves of all soldiers. In the north, the legionnaires are taking up the duty of decorating the graves of Union veterans, relieving the thinning ranks of the G. A. R. from the duty they had religiously performed for many years. In the South, the legionnaires will decorate the graves of those who wore the Gray.

Patriotic addresses will be given throughout the country and Legion members march in solemn parade in the uniforms they put aside more than four years ago.

Americans' soldiers sleeping in foreign soil will not be forgotten. All cemeteries in Europe will be visited by members of foreign legion posts. Prominent World War leaders from allied countries will gather with representatives of the United States government and other Americans in memorial services at the eight principal cemeteries in France, where the Americans war dead have been gathered.

Ships flying the American flag which were within the approximate zone of the submarine attacks, are to hold simple ceremonies in honor of the men who rest in unmarked graves in the depths of the ocean.

Minnesota legion posts will observe the day by planting hundreds of memorial trees on highways leading into their towns, each tree marks the name of a World War soldier who fell in battle.

Many posts in all parts of the country will dedicate memorial buildings and community centers which citizens have erected.

The French poppy, sacred from its war associations, will be worn by thousands. The national organization of the legion here supplied all posts poppies which were sold, the proceeds to be used for the relief of sick veterans and for the decoration of graves.

Oklahoma City Suffers Worst Flood Damage In History, Many Homeless

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 29.—One man is dead, hundreds of houses are washed away or flooded, and estimated property damage running into hundreds of thousands of dollars is the toll of the flooded North Canadian River here, already, with the water still rising.

Oklahoma City, cut off from its packing house district by wide torrents and with bridge connections out, faces a meat famine within 48 hours. Plans are being made to use airplanes to bring supplies from the meat district to the city in event the waters do not recede.

The first casualty in the flood, which has been in progress for more than a week, resulted when an unknown rescue worker was drawn beneath the walls of a falling house and disappeared in the flood.

With continued heavy rains, approaching cloudbursts in proportion in places, throughout Northwestern Oklahoma, little prospect for immediate relief from high water is seen here. A rise of two feet is scheduled to hit Oklahoma City momentarily, according to reports from cities upstream.

More than an inch and a half of rain fell here in less than an hour yesterday. Wagon and electric line bridges connecting suburbs with Oklahoma City have been swept out, and the threatened two-foot rise will sweep all bridge connections in the city, according to officials. Heavy traffic has been barred from the remaining bridges and pedestrians will be barred if the waters continue to climb, according to police.

Hundreds of refugees driven out of their homes by flood waters are being cared for by emergency organizations. Scores of basements were flooded in Oklahoma City as the result of backwater through the sewer system.

Railroad service is threatened in many places. Water broke into the Frisco roundhouse here late yesterday, flooding the works and marooning scores of workmen.

The Frisco railroad tracks here are under water and all trains from the West are being routed over the Rock Island line.

Entered as second-class matter, February 26, 1919, at the Postoffice at Mexia, Texas, under the act of March 3, 1879.

MEXIA HAS A LIVE LEGION

The Nowlin Post of the American Legion is attracting the attention of the entire State of Texas, because of its large membership, which is much greater numerically than found in any other city of anything like the population of Mexia.

The membership represents practically every walk of life.

Its club rooms are said to be the best equipped and most attractive of any in Texas, unless the exception be at Galveston.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the local Post has been giving splendid cooperation in assisting Commander Owen F. Watkins and the members in building up and caring for the organization, making its future bright and certain.

Thursday night, an athletic event will be held, in line with the desire to present wholesome, clean amusement and to help keep the Legion going through the financial aid that will thereby be derived.

The Post does not pose as an athletic club. It is composed of young life, however, and it is but natural that the directors, in arranging such events as that of Thursday night, that it should try occasionally to offer the public something of that nature.

The Post needs the help of the people.

The citizens of Mexia and this section of Texas rallied to their support in time of war and now that the ex-veterans are home again, believing that they will be enabled to serve their country in peace times most efficiently through the perpetuation of the American Legion, every friends of such a patriotic organization should lend it every encouragement, in word, deed or finance possible.

It takes some little money to keep the club going and to make the post headquarters possible.

The athletic show is just one of the ways of raising the needed finances.

Of course, you'll buy a ticket and be there.

The Post needs the help of Mexia.

OIL COMPANY OFFICIALS AT POWELL TODAY

J. L. Thompson, head of the Thompson Oil Corporation, Judge G. A. Walters, Vice President and V. B. Gardner, are in the Powell field today watching activities at the big gusher brought in by that Company late Saturday afternoon. The gusher bridged over at midnight Sunday and the bridged will not be bailed until sufficient storage and pipe line connections are complete. Five one thousand barrel steel storage tanks are being erected and all will be completed soon.

The pumps are expected to be running the product to storage sometime today.

The fact that the hole bridged was considered very fortunate by the owners as a large amount of oil which would have otherwise been lost has been saved. All available storage at the time of the blowing in of the well had been filled, as well as large earthen reservoirs and the oil was running over the ground. An area of several acres has been colored by the fluid. No official test of the gravity of the oil has been announced but it is said to be of a very high grade. Actual gauge of the production will not be possible until the oil is turned into the tanks.

The Springfield No. 2, one of the discovery well offsets, is reported to be making a good showing of oil today and is expected to be brought in shortly. Drilling was resumed at this well Sunday.

May 8, four months and one day following the coming in of the Burke discovery well, the Hughes-McKie No. 1, one mile and a quarter directly southwest, blew in with an initial flow of 10,000 barrels of high gravity oil. This was the first real gusher uncorked in the new fields, and evidently proved the trend of the pay structure out through the opening of the horse shoe. Situated as it is in a direct line with the Burke discovery and its four successful off-sets, the Thompson-Springfield No. 1 in between five hundred yards from the Burke well and slightly less than a mile from the first big gusher, directed interest to the second big well which was crowned into success when it shot forth and filled two five hundred barrel steel tanks in thirty-eight minutes.

Lenin Is Again On The Sick List

COPENHAGEN, May 29.—Several prominent doctors were summoned hastily to attend Nikolai Lenin on Sunday, according to a dispatch from Moscow. The physicians were requested to remain in the Kremlin.

Leonid Krassin, soviet trade emissary to London, is to succeed Vorovsky, who was assassinated at Lausanne, as Russian representative at Rome, according to Moscow reports. Krassin will leave as soon as the Anglo-Russian differences are straightened out.

Communists Plan Upheaval in Berlin

BERLIN, May 29.—Communists who have rioted in many Ruhr cities and in Saxony plan a great upheaval in Berlin tomorrow, according to unconfirmed rumors afloat here.

Bloody fighting between Reds and police at Dresden at midnight resulted in eleven deaths, according to reports reaching here.

The French, who have withheld from interference in the disturbances in most instances, today prohibited public assemblies at Recklinghausen, and probably will extend the prohibition to other parts of the Ruhr.

The move, it is believed, may mark the beginning of French intervention to prevent serious consequences of rioting.

The possibility of a Red disturbance in Berlin is alarming the authorities, as this, it is felt, would be far more serious than those elsewhere.

Unique in the annals of medical literature is "Shadows and Sunshine," an absorbing volume on the transplantation of ductless glands, just published by John R. Brinkley, M. D., chief surgeon of the Brinkley-Jones hospital at Milford, Kansas. The volume is a distinctive addition to the literature of the ductless gland, the more so because it approaches this interesting subject from an entirely new angle.

When Dr. Brinkley, who is the originator of animal-to-human gland transplantation, began implanting goat glands into humans in the autumn of 1917, the function of glands was veiled in mystery. Very little was known of the internal secretions. Since then medical books, medical journals, as well as lay journals, magazines and newspapers have devoted columns and pages to the results and arguments for and against this new line of surgery. But all of these articles have been the work of physicians and surgeons or trained scientific observers.

"Shadows and Sunshine," on the other hand, takes up the subject from the viewpoint of the patient—the man or woman who has had implanted in his or her system the glands of the goat and who is able to tell by personal experience of the effects of the operation. More than one hundred patients, male and female, ranging in age from twenty to eighty years, all of them former patients of Dr. Brinkley, have contributed to the volume. Their contributions are in the form of letters written before and after the operation and printed with their permission, and it is from these that "Shadows and Sunshine" takes its name.

The letters written before treatment are extremely pathetic in their appeal and depict, as no novelist could, the depths of physical and mental misery to which mankind may descend. There are letters from men and women who have been told that they have only a few weeks or months to live and who are grasping at the last straw. Reading them, one is certain that they were sent out under a special delivery stamp, for the authors were writing against time. Others are from despairing relatives who see loved ones sinking into insanity before their eyes.

But the gloomy picture that each of these letters paints to the reader has its antidote in another letter, written by the patient after undergoing the operation.

Several world war veterans are among the contributors, as well as numerous victims of the influenza epidemics that swept the country a few years ago.

The letters have been selected carefully from several thousand cases to cover the varied types of diseases that are benefited by gland transplantation. Perusing them, one learns that hardening of the arteries, paralysis, locomotor ataxia, diabetes, Bright's disease, melancholia, impotency, sterility, dementia praecox, as well as many other diseases, are being cured by implanting goat glands under local anesthetic, or by augmenting this operation by major surgery, as the nature of the case may demand.

To these letters Dr. Brinkley has added pertinent chapters on the ductless glands and their function, diseases influenced by gland transplantation, the method of operation and other interesting data.

ELSIE FERGUSON

CONSTANCE TALMADGE

ANITA STEWART

ALICE TERRY

BILLIE BURKE

When you go to the movies now and see your favorite screen star making love under a sheltering palm in the south seas or being dragged about on some desert island, the chances are ten to one that the picture has been made in Miami, Florida.

There has been a big pilgrimage of picture stars to Miami in the last year. The absence of fog there insures "shooting" pictures every day in the year, and nowhere else except in Miami's latitude is to be found the royal palm tree, so essential to tropical atmosphere.

Screen stars, who are pretty temperamental anyhow, don't relish waiting for a real desert island any more than do their directors. At Miami, however, which is rapidly becoming a motion picture center, they have found that a few hours journey takes them into tropical jungles, while at hand on the beach is found the most up-to-date type of high society. Beautiful winter residences of millionaires, stunning girls, and all the trappings of the rich are to be found all around, and with the Miami society colony at polo, yachting and golf, there is no lack of atmosphere or background.

In an hour by motor boat, the cameras may be clicking off a scene on a "pirate island" amid tropical beauty and thrilling surroundings. That Miami's popularity threatens Hollywood's supremacy is shown by the number of motion picture stars who have "worked" at Miami. Some of these are Constance and Norma Talmadge, Elsie Ferguson, Alice Brady, Bebe Daniels, Billie Burke, Anita Stewart, Alice Terry, Theda Bara, Mae Murray, Irene Castle, Corinne Griffith, Nita Naldi, Ruby de Remer, and scores of others less well known.

David Wark Griffith, Rex Ingram and other producers are using Miami "locations," and a mammoth motion picture studio has been built with every up-to-date appliance, which the producer finds at his fingers' ends on arrival.

Many movie stars live at Hialeah. Miami's motion picture suburb, Hialeah, promises to become as well known as Hollywood, without, perhaps, a few of Hollywood's features, Miami's hope.

Pittsburg Scout Spends Three Days In Mexia

By Heck

By hopping on Tiner right after someone had booted the pill, the Red Sox trimmed us again Monday by a 7-2 count when we should have won hands down. Somehow these Red Sox act like the Gumbo Busters when we play them and they do their darndest and our gang gets a bad case of the bootitis and away goes a ball game. As it stands now the Sox have us five games to four on the season. Everything looked good in the first frame when we stopped 'em without any one getting on. The Sox tallied in the second on a couple of hits and in the third they started a race track until Tiner got under Erwin's mile high fly and got the side out after four dents had been put in the platter. The Gushers snagged their entire total of two in the third on a pass to Whit after Howell's out, Tiner's blow to right, a pass to the Squib and Royster's long fly to Munns who proceeded to try to throw the pellet all the way to Shiloh and at that the Umps had to lead Tiner in from third because he was afraid someone had the ball hid. The whole Gusher infield got at least one error out of their system and they should do better now that they got six boots out of the way. However, the present road trip sure looks bad from where I sit. The whole gang is a badly bruised lot and some so sore that they can hardly get about much, less play a god game. Butler especially has had a bad arm for sometime that he carries as a memento of a collision with catcher Schroyer in Waco a long time ago. The rest of the gang are either nursing sore arms, lame backs or a flock of strawberryberries in their sliding apparatus, wherever that is. This little runt Bupp who plays short for the Sox showed us some fancy stuff yesterday and it just about stamps him as the best in the loop. His work of covering ball hit over second is just about the best seen here. Don't expect too much of the gang while they are away these nine long days, for they are not in shape to come back with a lot of games won and if they can get back with the old game in their favor we will be lucky. Tiner and Hill are getting overworked and that about spells the pitching staff as it is. Stovall has turned in well pitched games, his last three times out and will be a big help, but what Hub will do after Stovey pitches today is a mystery sure'nuff. Well, we can keep our fingers crossed until the gang gets back and maybe that will help some.

Dick Monahan, scout for the Pittsburgh Pirates has been with us the past three days and three days is a long time for a scout to stay in a class D town to watch class D clubs. However Dick told me that the Texas Association was playing the best class C baseball he had seen this year and he has seen all of them. He was especially pleased with the speed of the games and did not hesitate to say that all the clubs were strong class C aggregations. Dick was especially interested in watching Whitney and Leedy but had good words for the whole club. Dick did not buy anybody this trip, but said he would be back again before the season ended. I tried to sell him Red Skoen and have him taken to Pittsburgh, but Dick could not see my argument.

The Gushers and Gumbo Busters will play a double header game at Corsicana Friday of this week, according to an announcement made this morning by Grey Forrest, secretary of the Mexia Baseball club. The games are not listed on the previously published schedule. It is hoped that many fans from here will continue their support of the local club which has been helpful in keeping the Gusher pennant chasers on top.

PADDLERS FIND COLUMBIA RIVER A DELIGHTFUL STREAM FOR HUNDRED-MILE CANOE TRIPS

Canada is the land of the canoe. Before white men discovered America the Indians had paddled over every lake and stream between the Atlantic and Pacific. White men, arriving on this continent, adopted the Redman's water craft as the logical vehicle for penetrating unknown sections. In those early days the canoe was an article of service; today it is practically one of pleasure only.

Canada's wealth of waterways in the eastern provinces have lured hosts of Americans as a summer play place with the canoe as the proper accompaniment to a vacation in the wilds.

Recently a new region has been invaded by enthusiastic canoeists: the Columbia River and Windermere Valley in British Columbia. Many may wonder how canoeing can be possible among the mountains through which this mighty stream courses. However, it is quite feasible to make a canoe trip on the Columbia on its early stretches. Elies Carman, the Canadian poet-humorist, shot the eighty mile rapids of the Kootenay River last summer, but reported that "this is no trip for amateurs." The Upper Columbia, however, is not too hard for the canoeist. A trip made last summer by two Americans and a local man was very interesting, the details follow.

The start was made from Canali Flats, being preceded by an auto trip up the Kootenay River, seeing bear, deer and sheep as well as century-old Indian paintings on the rocks, enroute. Paddling down the north end of Columbia Lake, a fine camping ground was discovered, and a day spent there. The next camp was at Fairmont where two days were spent enjoying the scenery and in bathing in the Hot Springs. Chisholm's Camp on Mud Lake was the next stop. The river between the Columbia and Mud Lake was found to be very swift and full of "sweepers," this was the only dangerous stretch encountered in the trip of 120 miles.

From Mud Lake the course crossed Lake Windermere to Randolph Bruce's Bay, distinguished by his picturesque home and lovely gardens. Here a day was spent at the delightful Lake Windermere Bungalow Camp. Then back to the Columbia and on to the Radium Hot Springs for a two day stay which permitted a view of Sineclair Canyon, the western portal of the Saint-Windermere Motor Road, and then on to Red Rock and down to Spillimacheene where the party met up with an old miner stocked with interesting tales of early days.

The final leg of the voyage was from Spillimacheene to Golden. Throughout the trip, ducks, geese and fish were plentiful and insured a generous table. The settlers encountered along the way were pleasant and hospitable and the canoeists ended their trip well satisfied with the sketching, painting and photographing done on the way, declaring heartily for another trip.

Two Killed; Three Injured Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 28.—Two men were killed and three seriously injured here Sunday when two automobiles collided.

Reuben Hickcox, 69, of Oklahoma City and Harvey Horner, 69, Long Beach, Cal., are the dead. Horner was killed instantly and Hickcox died in an ambulance shortly after.

Horner was a 33 degree Mason and founder of the consistory at Wichita Kansas.

WATCHING THE SCORBOARD

Bepton's wild pitch in the ninth inning first two runs in and gave the Robins a 6 to 5 victory over the Braves.

Four runs scored in the first inning were all that the pirates could get off Viv Aldridge, but they were enough to beat the Cubs, 4 to 2.

O'Connell's first homer with two on base, helped the Giants win over the Phils, 12 to 4 and gave them their eighth straight victory.

Evans misjudged a fly hit by Meusel with two on in the first inning and it went for a homer, giving the Yanks three runs and the start for an 8 to 1 victory over the Senators.

Mitchell held the Bufts to four hits and the Steers won, 7 to 1.

The Crabs were helpless against Carlson and the Spudders scored their first shut out of the season, 12 to 0.

The Bears scored five times in the first frame and easily defeated the Gassers 8 to 4.

A bloody short handled ax was found near the body. Police said he is the twelfth victim in two years of what they believe is the same murder fiend. All of the victims were Italian grocers.

Plague Scarce European Points

(UNDATED)—By United Press—Plague is reported in various parts of Europe.

Two victims have died in the very outskirts of Paris while in Algeria, Spain and Egypt pestilences are spreading causing grave alarm. Steamers are held in quarantine in Mediterranean ports as a result of having cleared from Seville, and Oran, where the plague is reported severe.

Superstition whispers that the dread plague germs emanated from the tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen in the Valley of the Kings, near Luxor, Egypt.

Scenes from the Land of Cocoanuts

How Coconut is Brought from the Caribbean to Us

The best coconuts come from the Caribbean, to be transformed here into the shredded, fresh-keeping coconut we know so well. The accompanying photographs show how they are grown and harvested there.

The pictures in the top row are, from left to right: (1) Rapid Transit on a Coconut Plantation; Carts on rails, drawn by oxen, gather the coconuts after they have been taken from the palms. It would be a long, tedious journey, if the entire trip from the plantation to us had to be made in this manner. (2) No Job for a Man Who Gets Dizzy; You'll appreciate coconut more after you see what a job it is to harvest them. The tall palms are climbed by natives who use a rope, called a "liane" to help them.

(3) The Coconut Has Many Uses Besides as a Food; For instance, this photograph shows a picturesque hut, thatched with leaves from the palm. However, most of us prefer modern roofing and will take our coconut shredded.

Bottom Row, left to right. (4) Cocoanuts on the Palm; They give no hint of their goodness, enclosed as they are in thick husks which must be broken open before the nut can be extracted and brought to us shredded in ever-sealed containers. (5) Ornamental as well as Useful; The palms in addition to furnishing us with a tasty, healthful food, are employed for many other purposes in the tropics. This picture shows them used to decorate a driveway.

THIS PROVES OLD WORLD IS OKAY

MRS. RAY LONG

MRS. ROY HOWARD

Two fair returning voyagers on deck waving greetings to newspaper and magazine men on shore. And what's more, when they met 'em they kissed 'em hard. The fortunate newspaper man who happened to be on hand to get kissed was Roy Howard, of the Scripps-Howard papers; and the lucky magazine man who would have been disappointed if he hadn't got his, was Ray Long, editor-in-chief of all the Hearst magazines. They used to be cub reporters together. The reason they happened to be there to get kissed is that the fair voyagers back from South America were—their wives, Mrs. Ray Long (left) and Mrs. Roy Howard (right).

Says Dizzy Spells Are Dangerous Symptoms of High Blood Pressure

"It may be fatal to ignore the warning which Nature gives when she causes frequent dizzy spells," said a well-known physician. "They are often the only signals given to tell us that the blood pressure has been increased to the danger point."

And High Blood Pressure is a condition not to be neglected. It is itself a symptom of auto-intoxication (self-poisoning). The heart, in its endeavor to overcome the bad effects of the wastes that are poisoning the entire system, pumps harder and harder until the dangerous condition of High Blood Pressure is present. A scientific preparation called Bi-a-lin has been recently prescribed with remarkable results.

It helps Nature to free the system of the poisons which have caused the heart to overtax itself in its efforts to overcome their harmful effect.

The benefits reported from Bi-a-lin have been so remarkable that it was decided to put it up in convenient tablets and make it available to everyone without a prescription. If you have dizzy spells, nervous attacks, frequent headaches, offensive breath or constipation or feel generally run down, get Bi-a-lin at once from any good druggist such as, Mexia Drug Co., Anderson and Gilliland—(Adv't)

Avoid Harmful Grit

Pepsodent erodes the film and removes it without harmful scouring. Its polishing agent is far softer than sand. Never use a film cleanser which contains harsh grit.

Go Get Your Test

Then watch its effect on film. See the prettier teeth

If you don't know this new way of teeth cleaning, go accept this offer. Make this delightful test. Learn how much this method means to you and yours.

Millions now employ it. You see the results in glistening teeth wherever you look today. All the world over it is bringing to people a new conception of what clean teeth mean.

Go compare this new way with the old and watch the changes which come in a week.

You must fight film

Brushing teeth does not protect them if you leave a film. Film is the teeth's great enemy—the cause of most tooth troubles. And very few escaped those troubles under former brushing methods.

Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats it.

Food stains, etc., discolor film. Then it forms dingy coats. Tartar is based on film. That is why teeth lose luster. Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It feeds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Germs breed by millions in film. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. And that is alarmingly common.

Easy, effective ways

Dental science has now found ways to combat that film. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

ABLE authorities proved these methods by many careful tests. Then a new-type tooth paste was perfected to apply those methods daily.

That tooth paste is called Pepsodent. Its use has spread the world over, largely by dental advice. Careful people of some 50 nations are employing it today.

Other unique effects

Dental research also found two other things essential, because of deficiencies often found in modern diet. So Pepsodent multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

Those are Nature's great tooth-protecting agents in the mouth. Any soapy tooth paste decreases their power. Pepsodent, with every use, gives them manifold effect. Thus it is an effective aid in the war on acid and on starch.

All the world over dentists urge its use

Under old methods, tooth troubles were constantly increasing. They were almost universal. Most people's teeth were clouded more or less. Pyorrhea—that dread disease—attacked a large percentage.

So leading dentists everywhere now urge this fight on film. All the world over Pepsodent is bringing a new dental era.

Pepsodent results are quick and apparent. They will be a revelation to you. Once see and feel them and you will never go without them.

Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Watch the other good effects.

Our book explains the reason for each unique result. Go learn what these benefits mean. Cut out coupon now.

Engineer Says Individual Is Big World Problem

MONTREAL, March 29.—The individual the world's biggest problem Robert B. Wolf, New York engineer and industrialist, declared today in an address on "Management Engineering in the Paper Industry" at the spring meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

"In no other period of the world's history has the group spirit found such material expression as in this twentieth century development of corporate industry," said Wolf, who was a member of the Hoover committee on elimination of waste in industry of the federated American engineering societies.

"In the past men have combined into groups for productive purposes, but never before have we seen such grouping of groups and these larger groups into still larger corporate units, and the startling fact is that most of this has taken place within the lifetime of the men who are still in active charge of industry.

"What is the meaning of it all and what is to become of the individual men in the process? This, I believe to be the most momentous problem confronting modern civilization for if it is not solved, civilization as now constituted cannot last. To crush out the individuality of the workman is fatal to human progress and it is also fatal to destroy the individuality of our manufacturing or producing units.

"There is perhaps nothing more concrete and practical and at the same time more abstract and theoretical than the problem of developing indivisible group of individualities.

"Just as the man's interest in the future economy of his own performance is aroused by making him conscious of the economy with which he has performed in the past, so must the group consciousness of economy be aroused by providing a record of past group performance. Under group individuality (esprit de corps) is developed there can be no sense of responsibility and hence no progressive group accomplishment.

"It is obvious, therefore, that we must develop records for enabling the individuals who comprise the group to be conscious of what the group, as a unit, is accomplishing. Without this definite knowledge of progress made there can be no co-operative teamwork and the progress will be in the direction of quantity, with little thought of improvement in quality of performance or economy of operation.

"The individual must be understood, and the whole problem of industry resolves itself into finding out how to enable the unit individual the man, to become conscious of his relationship to the all-including group individual, the plant, and how to organize the plant so that it will be sufficiently sensitive to the welfare of the human units of which it is composed that it will not repress but encourage their individual development.

"The secret seems to lie in stimulating group consciousness within the organic whole of the plant by continuously recording the group's relationship to the plant on the one hand, and the man on the other and the immediate need seems to be for the education of foremen, to intelligently direct the groups."

The most difficult problem that the paper-mill manager has to solve, according to Wolf, is that of overcoming the resistance of the practical operators to the introduction of scientific manufacturing methods.

BUGHOUSE FABLES

Hunting Ohio For King Tut Of U.S.A.

COLUMBUS, O., May 28.—Archaeologist are digging in the Ohio river "valley of the kings" for an American King "Tut".

When they find him his trappings will exceed in splendor and the relics of his people will evidence a higher culture than the splendor and culture of the Egyptians three thousand years ago, according to Dr. William C. Mills, Ohio State University archaeologist. He believes relics are about to be unearthed in Ohio that would make the ancient Pharaoh, could he but see them, turn green with envy.

Many treasures already dug up in this country surpass those of the Nile, Dr. Mills said. A gold nugget hammered into the shape of an eagle is Dr. Mills' chief reason for believing American art 3,000 years ago was superior to that of Egyptian art of the same age.

Beautifully carved pipes recently taken from excavations in the Mound City group of Indian mounds are perhaps the most beautiful of the handiwork of the American ancients. They are carved from the hardest stone and their graceful curves, Dr. Mills points out, are a triumph over the short angular carvings of the Pharaohs.

The American flapper, when the ancient wonders begin coming to light in this country, however, Dr. Mills believes, will be less eager to adopt their styles of dress. For it is written in the museums that the relics thus far brought up indicate clearly the prehistoric tribes of this continent clothed themselves in a few jewels and a smile.

Otherwise they were as "cultured" as their contemporaries across the sea. Where the natives of the Nile used wooden beds, the natives of the Ohio slept upon fabrics woven from the long grasses of the lowlands.

The Egyptians, according to Mills, "had it on" the native Americans in but one respect—they could "write".

Dr. Mills predicts that as soon as modern science had conquered the fivers of Central America and made possible more extensive archeological expeditions, even better keys to the history of the continent will be available.

LAREDO, Texas, May 29.—Street paving work is now under full headway in Laredo. A large force of laborers is engaged in putting down the curbing for the entire length of Matamoros street from the I. G. N. Station eastward to the Arroyo Zeate, a distance of twenty blocks.

Street paving will follow the completion of this preliminary work within the next week.

FOREIGN BOXERS

(United Press Staff Correspondent) NEW YORK, May 29.—Paul Sampson, like Mike McTigue, who left the United States with little rep and some ambition, is back in this country with a title, quite a little money and a lot of opinions.

Sampson is the heavyweight champion of Germany. In the words of Sam Langford, who said after he won the heavyweight championship of Mexico: "It ain't so much, but it's sumpin'." Paul is admitting that his laurels won't get him much around American rings, but he's going back soon where they do.

"The fight game is booming in Germany, and I'm in on the ground floor. If I can't get a few matches around here I'm going right back," Sampson said.

He would like to get a match with Mike McTigue or Gene Tunney.

"McTigue may be recognized light heavyweight champion on this side, but everyone in Europe still regards Siki as the champion. He won seventeen rounds in the fight with McTigue, and no fighter ever earned a decision on three good rounds," he says.

While he was in Germany and Austria, Sampson won ten fights with knockouts and he piled up an accumulation of marks that will go a long ways where he could buy hand-made shoes for the equivalent of two dollars and a banquet for twenty-five cents.

Sampson shipped over on the Reliance, and he got a discharge in Hamburg with a month's pay of twenty dollars. That was enough to keep him for two months in Germany and he hit for Berlin, where he stumbled into a fight with Hans Breistrater, the German champion, and knocked him out.

After he had cleaned up all the German and Austrian heavies he had a fight arranged with Siki, and was negotiating with Paris promoters for a fight with Carpentier, but he lost both matches when the French went in the Ruhr section.

"The boxing commission then put a ban on all bouts against French and Belgian boxers and, being as I'm a German, I lost the chance for some good money," he said.

This fellow Siki isn't as bad as you think on this side. He's just a monkey. He drinks like a fish and does all kinds of dissipating, but he's hard to figure," Sampson said to the United Press.

"Carpentier is all through. I doubt if he comes over here. I saw him one night in a cafe in Berlin, and I didn't know him, he was so thin and white. He's been hitting the pace too. Smoking and drinking all the time. Dempsey took the little out of him that he had.

"Criqui is the best fighter over there, but I don't believe he can beat Kilbane. Those fellows over there don't like to take it the way they will have to when they box with Americans."

WORKING THE "COMBINATION"

A combination lock usually protects something valuable. The more valuable the article protected the more complicated the "combination", as a rule.

It requires a certain degree of knowledge and some practice to "work it". In this respect the combination to prosperity is no different from others.

In a farming community like ours, the door to prosperity may be opened, with close application and patience, by working the following combination properly.

The Universal Natural Malady And The Eternal Divine Cure Discussed In Message Sunday

"Tongues on Fire" was the subject of the eloquent sermon delivered Sunday morning at the First Presbyterian church by Doctor David Carson Bayless. Dr. Bayless had just returned from Ada, Ohio, where he attended the graduation exercises of Ohio Northern University, where he preached the baccalaureate sermon and where he received the degree of Doctor of Divinity.

His message in part was as follows:

Tongues on Fire

The twin messages from above levied as a burden upon the heart of the Messenger yet seeking only to do the Will of Him by whom he has been called to "preach the Gospel" and whose commission is to "preach the preaching that I bid thee" and "in the morning sow thy seed and in the evening withhold not thy hand for thou knowest not which shall prosper, this or that or whether both shall alike prove good," are hereby humbly presented as "the Universal Natural Malady" and "the Eternal Divine Cure". The text this morning is "The Tongue, is a fire and it is set on fire of Hell" James 3:6. The tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity; so is the tongue among all members that it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the course of nature. And it is set on fire of Hell. Time and time again we have stressed in your hearing the dire need of a working knowledge of the Word of God but generally with the emphasis centered upon knowing "Him who to know aright is life eternal." This morning let us consider the Bible as the truth not only revealing God to man, but disclosing human nature, revealing man to himself. "Know thyself" is not only sound, sensible, good advice but is a practical prerequisite to knowing God. We must know the malady before we can know the remedy. So let us direct our attention to the context and as we read and re-read it the realization bursts upon us that those scriptural facts have been unknown, at least have lain dormant in our minds, and lost to effective working in our lives and we sense a great need of the knowledge of this great truth that "the double minded man is unstable in all his ways." Our instability in the Christian life is a settled fact that we are "unprofitable servants" at best and that "our good is evil spoken of" and that our lives augur against the Lord Jesus while our professions of allegiance to Him are profane. It is a truth we must face, and why? Because we have not sought and striven for "the unsearchable riches of God in Christ Jesus," "the depth of the riches both of the Wisdom and the Knowledge of God" nor obeyed His injunction: "Search the Scriptures for in them ye think ye have Eternal Life and these are they which testify of me" "my word, are spirit and they are life." "The tree is known by its fruit" "How can ye, being evil speak good things? For out of the abundance of the heart, the mouth speaketh. A good man out of the good treasure of the heart bringeth forth good things, and an evil man out of the evil treasure bringeth forth evil things. Matt. 6:19-20-21-22-23. Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth. But lay up for yourselves treasures in Heaven. For where your treasure is there will be your heart also. The light of the body is the eye, if therefore thine eye be single thy whole body shall be full of light. But if thine eye be evil thy whole body shall be full of darkness." If there be light that is in thee be darkness, how great is that darkness? Matt. 12. But I say unto you that every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of Judgment. For by thy words thou shalt be condemned" James, the blood cousin of the Lord Jesus, is writing as one of those "Holy men of old" who "spoke as they were moved by the Holy Ghost" of a sin so far-reaching and defiling as to fill the whole world with iniquity and certainly our attention should be attracted and our interest riveted to it until by prayerful, careful consideration we come to cope with this insidious working position of corruption. The scriptural word "Back, biting" covers all that we know as tattling, whispering, evil speaking, defaming, bearing false witness, spreading false or even partly true reports, repeating gossip hinted, scandal insinuation. These are the evil's own fangs, functioning through the express agency of the human heart dominated by Satanic impulses. By nature we are self-deceived as well as Satan deceived for we are born with faces turned away from God. A careful study of God's revelation of man to himself discloses that "The heart is deceitful above all things and desperately wicked. Who can know it? I the Lord search the heart. I try the reins even to give to every man according to his work and according to the fruit of his doing." Jer.17-10. We are prone to this sin we are trended toward every other prohibitory sin. Prohibition does not prohibit whether it be of God or men. "Thou shalt not go up and down as a tale bearer among the people" It is easier because of the total depravity of the natural man to speak guile than good. David said of certain people thus minded, "The poison of asps is under their lips" and again "My soul is among lions—their tongue is a sharp sword—they are set on fire." The tongue is a fierce devouring lion, the tongue is a keen cutting sword. The tongue is a devastating demoniac as fire destroying all in its wake. Among the things God hates is the "sowing of discord among the brethren" "The progress of the church of the Lord Jesus Christ has been retarded and she has been hindered in her growth in Grace and the knowledge of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ" more by the human tongue than by any other course and that within the fold He indeed has been "wounded in the house of His Friends" This truth is indeed generic but none the less positive, pointing to the course of the last life of the Ecclesia "The called out ones" The watch word of His teaching is the word Watch and the first word in the acrostical consideration of human attributes contained therein is words. Watch Words, Action, Thoughts, Company, Habits but the first three are almost inseparable for thoughts proceed from the heart and words and actions are but the expression of those heart centered thoughts. Our need then is to think. "Just stand aside and watch yourself go by, think of yourself as he or she instead of I. Pick flaws, find fault, forget that person's you, then try to make your estimate of yourself ring true. The faults of others then will dwarf and shrink. Loves chain will grow stronger by one mighty link. When you as he or she is substituted for I have stood aside and watched yourself go by." Watch.

Do you know of a tale the telling of which will cause a proud man to lay low in the ditch of disgrace and despair and disdain everywhere the head once held high by a very good name. To droop with the horrible burden of shame. Its a mighty good plan to forget it.

"Boys flying kites call in their white winged birds, you can't do that when you are flying words, thoughts unexpressed often fall back dead. But God Himself can't kill them when they've said watch.

Mrs. R. E. Barnes of Dallas is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sewell.

Engineers To Watch New Motor At Work

By CAPT. E. V. RICKENBACKER
American Ace in the World War
Written for the United Press

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 23—Flags will be flying, thousands will be cheering and an historical event of importance will be under way at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, when more than 30 cars and drivers will start in the Eleventh International 500-mile race over the historic bricks of the famous Hoosier course.

The entire world will eagerly await the information telling the winner's name and the car which he drove. The thousands who will see the race will be awed at the daring of these speeders. The man who will come under the wire first will be a hero.

Practically every man, woman and child who will witness the gigantic event is interested in automobiles if not from an owner standpoint from at least a transportation point of view. Yet few of them will realize the importance changes that are likely to rise from the smoke of the race and become evident within a short time in the automobiles which we see on the street.

For the power plants driving the plying racers over the bricks at Indianapolis at terrific speed are developed on never more efficient and durable principles. On their success will depend the trend in engineering in the years to come. If they are as universally successful as it is believed they will be, there will be a noticeable trend in the direction of smaller motors for passenger cars. The motors in the racing cars to be driven tomorrow are smaller than even the power plants in the common flivver—smaller than any car we see on the streets today.

One manufacturer has entered four cars in which are incorporated a rotary valve principle of construction heretofore unsuccessful but which has shown promise in the days of practice preceding the race. If they are successful it will set engineers to working in that vein.

It is interesting that these small motors operate more efficiently with lower grades of fuel. The compression is high and the problem of lubrication, always difficult, has been solved, it seems.

Engineers from all over the world are here to investigate the performance of the smaller motors and cars. After the big event the winner's car will be torn down and inspected.

Tommy Gibbons Goes to Training At Shelby, Mont.

SHELBY, Mont., May 23.—With the arrival of Tommy Gibbons here this week to start his training for his fight with Jack Dempsey on July 4, Shelby will get its first real martial atmosphere.

Work on the arena is progressing rapidly and the advance sale of tickets continues beyond expectations. The promoters estimated today that $100,000 worth of orders have been placed on file and that from $5,000 to $10,000 worth are coming in daily.

Feeling that the Dempsey-Gibbons fight is now sure of being a tremendous success in every way, prominent business men of this section are planning to make such an offer for the proposed Dempsey-Wills fight on Labor Day that no Eastern promoters will be able to better it.

Two Killed; Three Injured Oklahoma

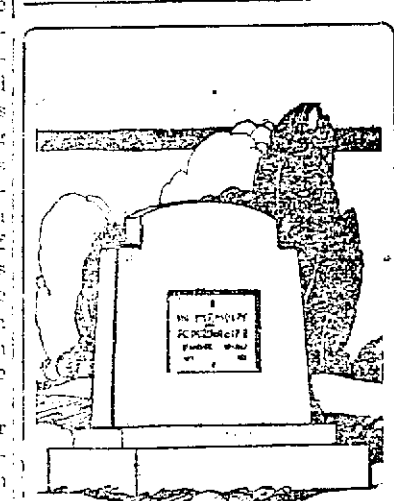

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 23.—Two men were killed and three seriously injured here Sunday when two automobiles collided.

Horner was a 33 degree Mason and founder of the consistory at Wichita Kansas.

SWIPPED AT BUMBLE BEE: WRECKED HIS FLIVVER

NEW YORK, May 23.—A big bumble bee buzzed over the head of Mike Jacobs, while he was out driving his flivver, Mike took a swat. Goodbye flivver! It struck a pillar and was completely wrecked.

WATCHING THE SCORBOARD

Benton's wild pitch in the ninth inning first two runs in and gave the Robins a 6 to 5 victory over the Braves.

Four runs scored in the first inning were all that the pirates could get off Viv Aldredge, but they were enough to beat the Cubs, 4 to 2.

O'Connell's first homer with two on base, helped the Giants win over the Phils, 12 to 4 and gave them their eighth straight victory.

Evans misjudged a fly hit by Meusel with two on in the first inning and it went for a homer, giving the Yanks three runs and the start for an 8 to 1 victory over the Senators.

New York Klan Rebels Against Governor Smith

NEW YORK, May 29.—Thousands of white-robed members of the Ku Klux Klan following week-end meetings held all the way across New York State from Niagara Falls to Eastport, L. I., stand today in open defiance of the new State Law, which compels filing with the Secretary of State the roster of secret societies, such as the Klan.

Amid flaring red torches and before mysterious altars, draped with the American flag, Klansmen pledged themselves to obey the constitution of the Klan, declaring Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York State had signed his political death warrant as far as his presidential aspirations were concerned by supporting the State dictum directed against the Klan.

Botulism poisoning was first known as "sausage" poisoning.

It is estimated that smoke costs Chicago $50,000,000 annually.

Houston Boy Shot At Hempstead Sunday Night

HOUSTON, May 29.—Bennie Battison, 22, was in a serious condition from gunshot wounds sustained early Sunday at Hempstead.

Battison was shot as he stood in the rear doorway of a house occupied by his aunt, Mrs. Charles F. Smith. A shotgun was the weapon used by his assailant.

A relative of the boy by marriage is being held in connection with the shooting which is said to have followed some trouble occurring in the evening.

THIS PROVES OLD WORLD IS OKAY

Two fair returning voyagers on deck waving greetings to newspaper and magazine men on shore. And what's more, when they met 'em they kissed 'em hard. The fortunate newspaper man who happened to be on hand to get kissed was Roy Howard, of the Scripps-Howard papers, and the lucky magazine man who would have been disappointed if he hadn't got his, was Ray Long, editor-in-chief of all the 'Hearst' magazines. They used to be cab reporters together. The reason they happened to be there to get kissed is that the fair voyagers back from South America were their wives, Mrs. Ray Long (left) and Mrs. Roy Howard (right).

Sinclair Lakes To Gulf Pipe Line Complete

HOUSTON, TEXAS, May 23.—

The lakes-to gulf pipe line of the Sinclair Pipe line Company which will start from Houston to Chicago and which will take in practically every important field in the middle-west, is expected to be completed and in operation within the next few days it has been announced by officials of the company.

The completion of this pipe line marks the first step in the construction of a giant funnel-like system of pipe lines, the spout of which will be in Port Houston and the bowl of which will extend through practically every producing oil field East of the Rockies. The Lakes-to Gulf pipe line is only a part of the complete system.

A second line from Tea Pot Dome, Wyoming which will join the Lakes-to Gulf pipe line a short distance below Kansas City, Mo., is now under construction.

The almost completed pipe line has a broader scope than any other in the world. The system of the Prairie Pipe Line Co., has more mileage but it is criss-crossed through Oklahoma and Kansas to such an extent that the scope of its operations does not compare with that of the new project.

A complete privately owned communication system has been installed in conjunction with the pipe line. This affords the Sinclair Pipe Line Company direct telephonic communication between Houston and Chicago. The line to Tea Pot Dome will also be equipped with such a system.

Seventeen pumping stations will be required along the Lakes-to Gulf pipe line. These stations have already been built and each station requires a permanent force of eight to ten men to care for the huge Diesel engines which will run day and night to keep the "black gold" flowing through the pipes.

Another feature of the new pipe line is that it is one of the few two-way lines. Oil can be pumped either in or out of Houston, according to the requirement. If necessary oil could be pumped directly from Houston to Chicago or visa versa.

Memorial Day

—Tomorrow is the day for reverence of the dead—a day when every one turns their thoughts to those who gave all for us. There is no homage too great for them—the friend, the brother, the father, the someone who has gone from your life and our life that we might live in peace and happiness.

—Let us pause in our hurried pursuit of life, bare our heads and decorate the graves of those who have paid the price for us.
